

Workflow Learning: the procedural steps that accompany an information technology or ERP system, often called help; formerly called electronic performance support systems.

Blended Learning: learning that combines or blends various modes of instruction. Examples are formal and informal learning experiences or e-learning and instructor-led learning.